

Hawkwood Books Blog : June 2020

Six Secrets

Last month saw the publication of Hunger March, sixth in the serie, Secrets of a Dancing Girl by Cecily Riley. In case you missed them, here's the list:

978-1-908577-68-9 The Chess Player

978-1-908577-75-7 A Mouthful of Bread

978-1-908577-82-5 One of Us

978-1-908577-86-3 My Lover

978-1-908577-91-7 The Priest

978-1-908577-95-5 Hunger March

Cecily Riley, fascinated with all things vintage, has undertaken the task of romancing real crimes of the 1930s. Mixed in with the investigations is a loving observation of life in the London of those days, as well as the wondrous world of Soho cabaret dancers. Visit Lucy's website page for more information including a playlist of contemporary songs that weave an atmospheric backdrop to these intriguing books:

Search Facebook "Lucy Hall"

Website: <http://www.secretsofadancinggirl.com/>

A word from the publisher:

Publishing these six novellas has been a delight. They are unique, original, easy to read, evocative and full of affection for a long vanished world. They aren't truly "Whodunnits" because you know early on who did it, a little like Columbo, but the easy writing and love for her characters makes them charming additions to your library. Order from any shop or online.