

The Boys in the Band

April 2026

A true, sometimes hilarious, sometimes dangerous romp through the 70's with a pink catsuit-clad cabaret band whose antics would get them locked up today and where fame definitely isn't everything.

The Publisher

Hawwood Books has been operating since 2006.

We publish a range of genres in paperback with distinctive colour-coded covers. Some titles are also offered in electronic formats.

Though small, our standards are high and we print through a top class company.

Authors come from all walks of life with vastly different approaches to writing.

Hawwood offers a way in to writers whose works may have been overlooked elsewhere.

Our books are occasionally bought by publishers with greater reach worldwide.

One of our books has been nominated for the Carnegie Medal and other positively reviewed in national media.

We distribute mainly through Gardners and our titles are available through all reputable outlets.
