

Hawkwood Newsletter

August 2024

KENJI

Our September title is 'Kenji', an intense YA novel by L.J.M. Wadsworth.

Like the Blackness that sucks Evan's father into another world, this driving narrative pulls the reader into Evan's desperate quest to save his parents from unknown powers. Immersive and emotionally compelling, Kenji is a breathless, wild ride through a young person's discovery of himself and his family.

Over the past few months, we have redesigned our covers to expand the range which now includes poetry and memoirs. The borders are colour coded to represent the various genres. Rise and Shine, Little Man by David Hogarth and Seventy-Seven and Counting were examples of the latter and Leechcraft of the former. The Lady Upstairs by The Man Downstairs and Partly Sane, Prose Merry and Rhyme, a challenging book of poetic thoughts by David Hogarth.

www.hawkwoodbooks.co.uk

Quality Independent Publishing

Our aim has always been to produce good quality, interesting and unusual books for all ages.

Hawkwood started out in 2006 and now has authors from around the world, literally.

We don't promise fame or fortune but never give up the hope of either.

Our mission statement is to avoid mission statements, just to produce the best books we can.

Visit our Facebook Page and website for more information.

Newsletter Page 1